

After much debate and input from American citizens, the FCC ruled on net neutrality in 2015. Nothing has changed our opinions and the Internet continues to be the great equalizer allowing us to access whatever from whoever whenever. Nothing has broken, nothing needs to be fixed. So I ask you NOT to change these rules and give certain ISPs the power to disrupt the equilibrium and discriminate against people and businesses that don't have the money to buy access and speed.

Thank you for your consideration.
